

Acceptable Identification List — pursuant to FINTRAC Guideline: Methods to identify individuals and confirm the existence of entities and the Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act and regulations

FNBC WILL USE ONE METHOD OF THE FOLLOWING THREE METHODS TO ASCERTAIN AND VERIFY YOUR IDENTIFICATION FOR THE PURPOSES OF OPENING AN ACCOUNT, OR, AS A NON-CUSTOMER, CASHING A FEDERAL GOVERNMENT CHEQUE OR OTHER PAYMENT INSTRUMENT:

i. Photo Identification Method

FNBC may ascertain the identity of the customer using one piece of ID from the following list:

1. A driver's license issued in Canada, including non-driver photo ID's issued by the Province or Territory;
2. A Canadian passport;
3. A Certificate of Canadian Citizenship (issued prior to 2012, with photo);
4. A Permanent Resident card;
5. A Certificate of Indian Status issued by the Government of Canada;
6. Any other document or card, bearing the individual's photograph and signature, issued by any federal, provincial or territorial government (but not municipal government).
7. The foreign equivalent of the above documents will be acceptable so long as it is current, valid and original and bears the individual's photograph and signature.

ii. Credit File Method

FNBC may ascertain the identity of the customer solely by relying on a 'soft hit' of the individual's credit file, provided that it has been in existence for at least three years and matches the name, date of birth, and address provided by the customer. The 'soft hit' does not include a credit assessment and does not affect credit rating.

iii. Dual Process Method

The table below demonstrates how the requirements can be fulfilled by the dual process. FNBC must obtain two separate documents and may rely on a source from any two Columns, but cannot rely on two sources from the same Column. In addition, FNBC must view the original documents.

The customer can email FNBC the original documents, if they received them electronically directly from the source.
